

Wanda Felton Vice Chair and First Vice President

Wanda Felton is Vice Chair and First Vice President at the Export-Import Bank. Ms. Felton is a presidential appointee, twice confirmed by the United States Senate. She has voted on more than $30 billion of global financings and policy matters during her tenure at EXIM Bank. She travels extensively to promote American exports and has helped U.S. companies penetrate international markets and develop pragmatic financing solutions to win sales. Ms. Felton is on the team of economic deputies that advises the National Security Staff on trade and investment. She also serves on the Steering Committee for Global Connect, an initiative led by the State Department and White House Technology Office to expand global Internet access.

Ms. Felton joined EXIM Bank after a 25-year career in investment banking and private equity fundraising. Previously, she held senior positions at Jefferies, Credit Suisse, and Hamilton Lane Advisors. Ms. Felton was at the forefront of bringing patient capital to emerging markets and helped launch two of the largest global emerging markets private equity platforms. She earned her B.A. at the University of Pennsylvania and MBA at Harvard Business School.

Updated: August 2016