Fact Sheet for EXIM Bank Clients Affected by Hurricane Michael

The Export-Import Bank of the United States (EXIM) has relief provisions in place for exporters and financial institutions located in those portions of the United States that have been declared federal disaster areas by the Federal Emergency Management Agency as a result of Hurricane Michael. EXIM recognizes that the business interests of those exporters, particularly small businesses, and financial institutions that are located in the affected areas will understandably be secondary to more urgent personal and humanitarian concerns over the coming weeks and months. Accordingly, EXIM wants to assure our customers that we will work with you to address the problems you are facing and will continue to face as a result of the devastation wrought by this hurricane.

EXIM is offering the relief measures outlined below to our customers located in the described area for an initial period of six months (with the possibility of a further extension of the period, at EXIM’s discretion) to enable businesses and financial institutions that participate in our programs to return to their business concerns and EXIM-related obligations at an appropriate time without penalty.

   o Waiver of program requirements with which parties cannot reasonably comply under the circumstances, such as field exams, borrowing base certificates, financial statement reporting, and other reporting requirements;

   o Waiver of defaults for nonpayment of interest;

   o Waiver of provisions relating both to defaults and to replenishment of collateral for over advances resulting from losses of inventory and/or sales; and
